SCHOOL OF LAW

The Law School of the University of Alabama takes pleasure in presenting its eleventh placement brochure. In it you will find a brief description of the Law School and members of the 1967 senior class.

By furnishing you with short biographies of our seniors, we have endeavored to give you pertinent information on their qualifications for employment. Since the material for this folder was compiled in September, 1966, it does not reflect changes occurring after that date.

Should you desire additional information on any of these members of the graduating class, or on any of our other students, please write Professor Guy T. Huthnance, Director of the Law School Placement Bureau. We welcome visits to the Law School and will be happy to arrange interviews here in Farrah Hall with those students in whom you might be interested.

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA SCHOOL OF LAW

The Law School of the University of Alabama has been in continuous existence since 1872. It is rich in history, tradition, and accomplishments, and is now growing in faculty size and strength, library resources, student enrollment and curriculum.

The Law School is accredited and approved by the two national organizations which are interested in legal education—the Association of American Law Schools and the American Bar Association.

Presently students are graduated three times a year. Under previous admission requirements, entering law students must have satisfactorily completed a minimum of three years of college work; a majority of the students have received either an A.B. or B.S. degree before receiving the professional degree of Bachelor of Laws. After September, 1966, students must have earned a college degree before admission to Law School.

The three-year curriculum is designed to prepare students for the practice of law and to provide legal training for those planning to enter business or public service. Students are prepared to practice in any of the common-law states. In a few courses special attention is given to the law of Alabama. Casebooks on Alabama procedure, for example, prepared by members of the faculty, are used in the courses on pleading and trial practice. Participation in the trial and appeal of cases in the Practice Court is a regular feature of the work of each senior student. An active moot court program is offered for second and third year students.

LAW LIBRARY

The Law Library has holdings of more than 56,000 volumes. The library is supplemented by the collections in the University Main Library and the Business Library. Since knowledge of the methods of research in law is essential to the lawyer, all students are required to learn how to use the library. The Librarian is a member of the faculty and teaches Legal Bibliography.

The completion of an annex to the Law School in March 1965, made space available for a total of 120,000 volumes. In addition, the new wing has for the first time provided patrons with such facilities as private carrels, a photo-reproduction room, a microfilm reading room, and a student typing room. The addition of these new facilities has greatly increased the research usefulness of the Law Library to the faculty members and students of the Law School and to the lawyers of the State.

ALABAMA LAW REVIEW

A student Editorial Board was organized in 1948 for the publication of the Alabama Law Review, a legal periodical which has been distributed twice a year since that time. The Editorial Board is composed of students of outstanding ability, chosen primarily on the basis of scholastic achievement.

The leading articles in the Alabama Law Review are usually contributed by attorneys, law teachers and judges. Comments and case notes, prepared by students under faculty guidance, give the students valuable experience in research, analysis, and legal writing.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

Law students elect student officers to an active student government which is affiliated with the American Law Student Association. The students administer their own Honor System through the student Executive Council and sponsor various activities, including a Law Day in the spring and a Law Forum, which brings to the Law School important personages from the legal profession, as well as from business and public life.

Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Delta Phi, and Sigma Delta Kappa, national legal fraternities, and Kappa Beta Pi, national legal sorority, have active chapters in the Law School.

The Law School scholastic honor society is Farrah Order of Jurisprudence, its membership consisting of the upper ten per cent of the senior class. The Bench and Bar Society is composed of students selected on the basis of scholarship and service in Law School activities.
